

3701-83-27 Admission procedures and preliminary assessment - inpatient rehabilitation facilities.

- (A) Each inpatient rehabilitation facility shall develop written criteria for admission of patients to the facility that includes a description of the programs and services available at the facility.
- (B) Each inpatient rehabilitation facility shall not admit a patient to the facility unless the following conditions are met:
  - (1) The patient is able to tolerate a minimum of three hours of rehabilitation therapy, five days per week;
  - (2) The patient is medically stable; and
  - (3) The patient's prognosis indicates a progressively improved medical condition with the potential for increased independence.
- (C) Each inpatient rehabilitation facility shall ensure that a written preliminary assessment of each patient is completed by an interdisciplinary team within forty-eight hours of admission that includes, at a minimum, the following:
  - (1) An evaluation of the appropriateness of the patient's placement in relation to the services available at the particular facility; and
  - (2) Identification of the immediate needs of the patient.
