Additional Remarks

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) anticipated funding for SFY12 subgrant funding cycle is $382,000; Program proposed in its competitive funding application to CDC to fund up to five successful applicants. Selected applicants will receive the same amount of funding ($70,500). The City of Cleveland will have a narrowed focus on lead poisoning prevention, will be only serving the Cleveland area, and is being awarded $100,000 as a result of the high prevalence of childhood lead poisoning in their geographic area.

No applicant was selected as the Northwest Regional Support Program. Only one application was received and that was from the Lucas County Health Department. The external review panel recommended not funding this site.

The application submitted by Cincinnati City Health Department was not reviewed for funding by ODH policy. Incomplete submission.
